

THE 15-MINUTE GUIDE TO

Biblically Responsible Investing

INVESTING FOR THE GLORY OF GOD

Meet The Smiths.

The Smiths are conservatives with biblical values, such as life, family, marriage and more. They strive to honor God as they manage their money through giving, saving and investing. Unfortunately, like so many investors, the Smiths have a problem.

The Smiths screen their family's entertainment for violence, drug-use, profanity and nudity.

The Smiths volunteer at a pro-life pregnancy center.

The Smiths lead an alcoholics anonymous meeting at their local church.

The Smiths own Comcast in their IRA, which actively produces and distributes these types of entertainment.

The Smiths own Johnson & Johnson in their 401(k), which actively manufactures an abortifacient drug.

The Smiths profit from the S&P 500, which includes alcohol production companies, like Molson Coors.

Do you see the problem here?

Clearly, the Smiths are unaware that their investments do not align with their values. Until now, investors like the Smiths have had no way to see what is going on in their investments.

How To Get Started With Biblically Responsible Investing

Introduction to Biblically Responsible Investing

There is a movement underway in the world of finance where Christians are investing billions of dollars intentionally to support biblical values for the glory of God, and it is called Biblically Responsible Investing (BRI). More and more Christians are waking up to the opportunity to align their investments with biblical values, as well as discovering the unsettling truth that they have previously been profiting from immoral businesses such as abortion, pornography, human trafficking and other unbiblical practices. The growing demand for biblically responsible investments is changing the landscape of Wall Street and gaining global recognition as a powerful force for positive change for God's glory throughout the world. However, many Christian investors are at a loss for how to get started with biblically responsible investing, but biblically responsible investing does not have to be complicated. Following is a step-by-step guide to make it simple and easy to implement biblically responsible investing in your financial life.

“ Christians control $6.7 trillion of assets in the U.S., not counting their primary residence, and they are increasingly looking for an investment approach that supports their point of view. ”

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL. JUNE 8, 2017

Step 1: Discover What You Own From A Biblically Responsible Investing Perspective

The first step in the journey towards biblically responsible investing is to discover the truth about what you own in your investment account. What are the companies that you own in your 401(k), IRA, mutual funds, ETFs and other investments doing to turn a profit? Are they manufacturing abortion drugs, selling pornography, using slave labor in their supply chains? Are they donating money to Planned Parenthood? Lobbying to advance the LGBT agenda? In his bestselling book, “Biblically Responsible Investing: For God’s Glory and Your Joy”, Inspire CEO and founder, Robert Netzly, recalls his BRI discovery moment:

“I vividly remember the moment that I discovered the troubling truth of what I was invested in,” says Netzly, “and how shocked I was to find that here I was, the president of our local pro-life pregnancy center, and I also owned stock in 3 companies through my mutual funds that were manufacturing abortion drugs. That means that every time a young woman went to Planned Parenthood and had an abortion, I was profiting from that transaction. That realization changed my life forever, as it has for countless other biblically responsible investors around the world today.”

The Problem Is More Widespread Than People Realize

Investors typically only look at the financial aspect of an investment prior to investing. Most investors never even consider the moral behavior of the companies they are investing in.

Many investors are surprised to learn they are profiting from and supporting these unbiblical activities within their investment portfolios.

SO, HOW DO YOU FIND OUT WHAT THE MORAL VALUE OF YOUR PORTFOLIO IS? It is certainly a daunting task to consider, and quite impossible for the average investor to compile the amount of research necessary to dig into the dirty details of every company in their portfolio. After all, it is hard enough just to read your quarterly statement without going cross-eyed, let alone pour through thousands of hard-to-find data points on thousands of publicly traded companies.

The good news is that you don't have to because there are Christian financial advisors, such as the professionals at Inspire Advisors, that have robust analytic technology where they plug in your investment ticker symbols and out pops easy-to-understand reports that show you everything you ever wanted to know (and everything you NEVER wanted to know) about the moral issues in your portfolio.

There is also inspireinsight.com, which is a free online tool that our team built to empower investors with the biblical values data they need to make informed, God honoring decisions. Inspire Insight brings together the most robust data sets from the world's leading providers and makes that information freely available to anyone with an Internet connection.

All you need to do is type your ticker symbols or the name of a company in the search bar and you instantly get all the data related to the biblical values, both good and bad, that company is involved in, as well as financial performance data so that you can make an investment decision that is both “wise as a serpent and innocent as a dove” (Matthew 10:16).

Are you ready to discover the truth about your investments? Ignorance is certainly not bliss, and I encourage you to take that step and see for yourself what is going on behind closed doors in your portfolio.

HOW DO I KNOW WHAT IS IN MY INVESTMENT PORTFOLIO?

1. Easily screen your investments for biblical values online for free with a simple ticker symbol search at inspireinsight.com.

Get a biblical overview of your entire portfolio including stocks, mutual funds, IRAs, and more.

2. Talk with an Inspire Advisor to review the simple steps you can take to begin supporting biblical values with your investments and work toward your financial goals at the same time.

Step 2: Explore Biblically Responsible Investing Options

If you are like most Christian investors, once you discover the moral issues in your current portfolio you will want to make a change as soon as possible. So, how do you build a biblically responsible investing portfolio? Upon learning about biblically responsible investing, some Christian investors have the concern that it will be difficult to find enough quality biblically responsible investment options to construct an outstanding portfolio that meets their financial goals. But praise God that the fact of the matter is that the overwhelming majority of companies pass even the most stringent biblically responsible investing screening criterion so that there is no shortage of quality companies for biblically responsible investors to allocate capital to. There are also a large and growing number of biblically responsible investing mutual funds, including lower cost ETFs that one would assume are managed according to biblically responsible investing guidelines, but in fact do very little (or sometimes zero) investment screening. Also, not every Christian financial advisor is trained or equipped in biblically responsible investing, so do not just assume because your advisor is a Christian that they are managing your investments according to biblical values. Many Christian advisors, just like Christian investors, still have no idea that there is a major moral dilemma present in the portfolios they manage. As a good steward of God's investments, be sure to do your “ Perhaps it can even outperform the broader index or ESG [Environment, Social, Governance] portfolios. If so, it will attract lots of capital. ”

(exchange traded funds) and other professionally managed investment vehicles available for biblically responsible investors and Christian financial advisors to use in their portfolios.

One word of caution: there are many investment funds issued by Christian faith-based organizations homework and check the biblically responsible investing reports on inspireinsight.com even for Christian funds and advisors to make sure you know what you are investing in.

Once you identify your available investment options that meet biblically responsible investing screening criterion, the rest of the investment selection process is exactly the same as building any other portfolio: consider the risks, returns, fees, diversification and other important aspects to build your biblically responsible investing portfolio.

If you are a do-it-yourself investor, you can find many helpful resources direct from investment fund providers and analysis sites like inspireinsight.com.

What Is The Inspire Impact Score Methodology?

At Inspire Advisors, we believe that investing in the most inspiring companies aligned with biblical values offers investors a powerful way to make a positive impact on the world while also providing the potential for above average performance. We identify these inspiring “businesses of blessing” with our revolutionary Inspire Impact Score methodology, which is an objective, rules-based scoring system that rates companies based on their alignment with biblical values and the degree to which they operate as blessings to their customers, communities, workforce and the world. Inspire Impact Scores range from -100 to +100, with +100 being the best possible score. Following is the framework for how we develop Inspire Impact Scores to create impactful, inspiring, biblically aligned portfolios.

There is no guarantee that any investment will achieve its objectives, generate positive returns, or avoid losses.

If managing your own investment portfolio is not on your list of favorite things to do, consider working with a Christian financial advisor who is trained in biblically responsible investing, like the professionals

Step 3: Start Biblically Responsible Investing And Impact The World For God’s Glory!

After discovering what you own from a biblically responsible investing perspective, and then exploring your biblically responsible investing options, it is time to pull the proverbial trigger and become a biblically responsible investor, joining the growing number of other Christian investors in the biblically responsible investing movement!

As Inspire CEO, Robert Netzly, writes in his book:

“The BRI movement is an exciting phenomenon that Wall Street is completely unprepared for. I have spoken with thousands of Christian investors and advisors over the past several years and I can attest to the fact that there is an awakening going on where the Holy Spirit is illuminating the importance of investing for God’s glory and placing a passionate conviction in the hearts of His people zealous to honor God in their financial life, just as they do in other areas of life.

God makes it clear in His word, the Holy Bible, that He wants His people to manage His money according to His values for His glory, and our joy. “So whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God.” (1 Corinthians 10:31) Christians control trillions of dollars in investment assets, and together we can inspire transformation for God’s glory throughout the world by aligning our investments (God’s investments!) with biblical values, sending a powerful message to Wall Street and corporations everywhere that God’s people care about biblical values enough to “put our money where our faith is”.

There are already biblically responsible investing success stories, such as corporations ending their philanthropic support of Planned Parenthood and hotels removing pornography from their televisions, and by the grace of God we will see even more of these inspiring stories unfolding. But, even if nothing changes and corporations continue to go from bad to worse, it is still the biblically responsible investor’s joy to glorify God by honoring His values with His investment assets. One day we will all stand before our Lord and give an account for what we have done with all He has given us during our time on earth. I want to hear the “well done, good and faithful servant. Enter into the joy of your master” regarding every part of my life, including how I managed God’s investments. What about you?”

BACKED BY RESEARCH

UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

In 2014, the University of Oxford reviewed 190 academic studies on the relationship between sustainability and firm performance finding:

80% of the studies suggested a positive relationship between good sustainability practices and stock performance.

88% indicated firms’ performance was improved by strong environmental, social and governance practices.

PERFORMANCE IMPACT STUDY

A 2016 study by Shane Enete, Ph.D., CFA at Biola University’s Inspire Research Institute For Biblically Responsible Investing, has shown that applying certain biblical investment screening methodology to portfolio security selection generate outperformance in a portfolio when compared to broader, non-screened benchmarks. This finding adds new data to the debate of what effect biblically responsible investing (BRI) screening has on the performance of a portfolio. While screening a portfolio does not guarantee favorable returns, this study clearly shows that using biblically responsible investing does have the potential to provide outperformance when compared to a non-screened benchmark.

Biola Study Results

“The results of the study found that the [biblical investing] methodology of security selection resulted in an annualized outperformance compared to the non-screened benchmark.”
